

$1.95

stars ain't nothin' but

SPACE GRITS

Vol. 1, No. 4

IN THIS ISSUE:

•

Brad
Strickland

•

Doug
Chaffee

•

George
Scithers
INTERVIEW

stars ain't nothin' but

SPACE GRITS

Volume 1, Number 4, Spring, 1985

EDITOR: A. J. Mayhew

ART DIRECTOR: G. A. West

PRODUCTION MANAGER: D. E. Smirl

SECOND BEST BOY: J. R. McHone

CONTENTS

Homily Grits - editorial by A. J. Mayhew
illustrated by Stephen Fox.....Inside front cover

Dreamlady - fiction by Brad Strickland
illustrated by Doug Chaffee.....2

Masquerading as Public Works - poem by Dallas Denny
illustrated by Phil Hawkins.....:8

Always '69 - fiction by Jerry Meredith illustrated by G. A. West.....10

SPACE GRITS Interview - George Scithers.....15

Salvation Mission - fiction by Paul Holt
illustrated by Stephen Fox.....19

Cold Scene - transcript by Ralph Roberts.....26

The Blacksmith's Boy and the One-Eyed Witch - fiction by
K. H. Nelson, illustrated by Richard Becker...28

Poem Where They Meet in Plain Clothes For Fried Chicken-poem by Judy Ruiz.....41

Small Favor - fiction by d. e. smirl
illustrated by Mike Tidwell.....42

Space Karate in a Nutshell - advertisement by Rosalind
Warren, illustrated by George Kochell.....46

The Black Sword of Chaos - fiction by David Friese
illustrated by Earl Geier.....48

A Message From Home - short-short by Heather Sanders illustrated by Mary Bohdanowicz.....52

Orpheus - fiction by James P. Hanrahan illustrated by Mel. White.....53

Small Pressure - review column by d. e. smirl and J. R.
McHone.....60

Federal Register - by Preston Page.....Inside back cover

OTHER ART CREDITS:

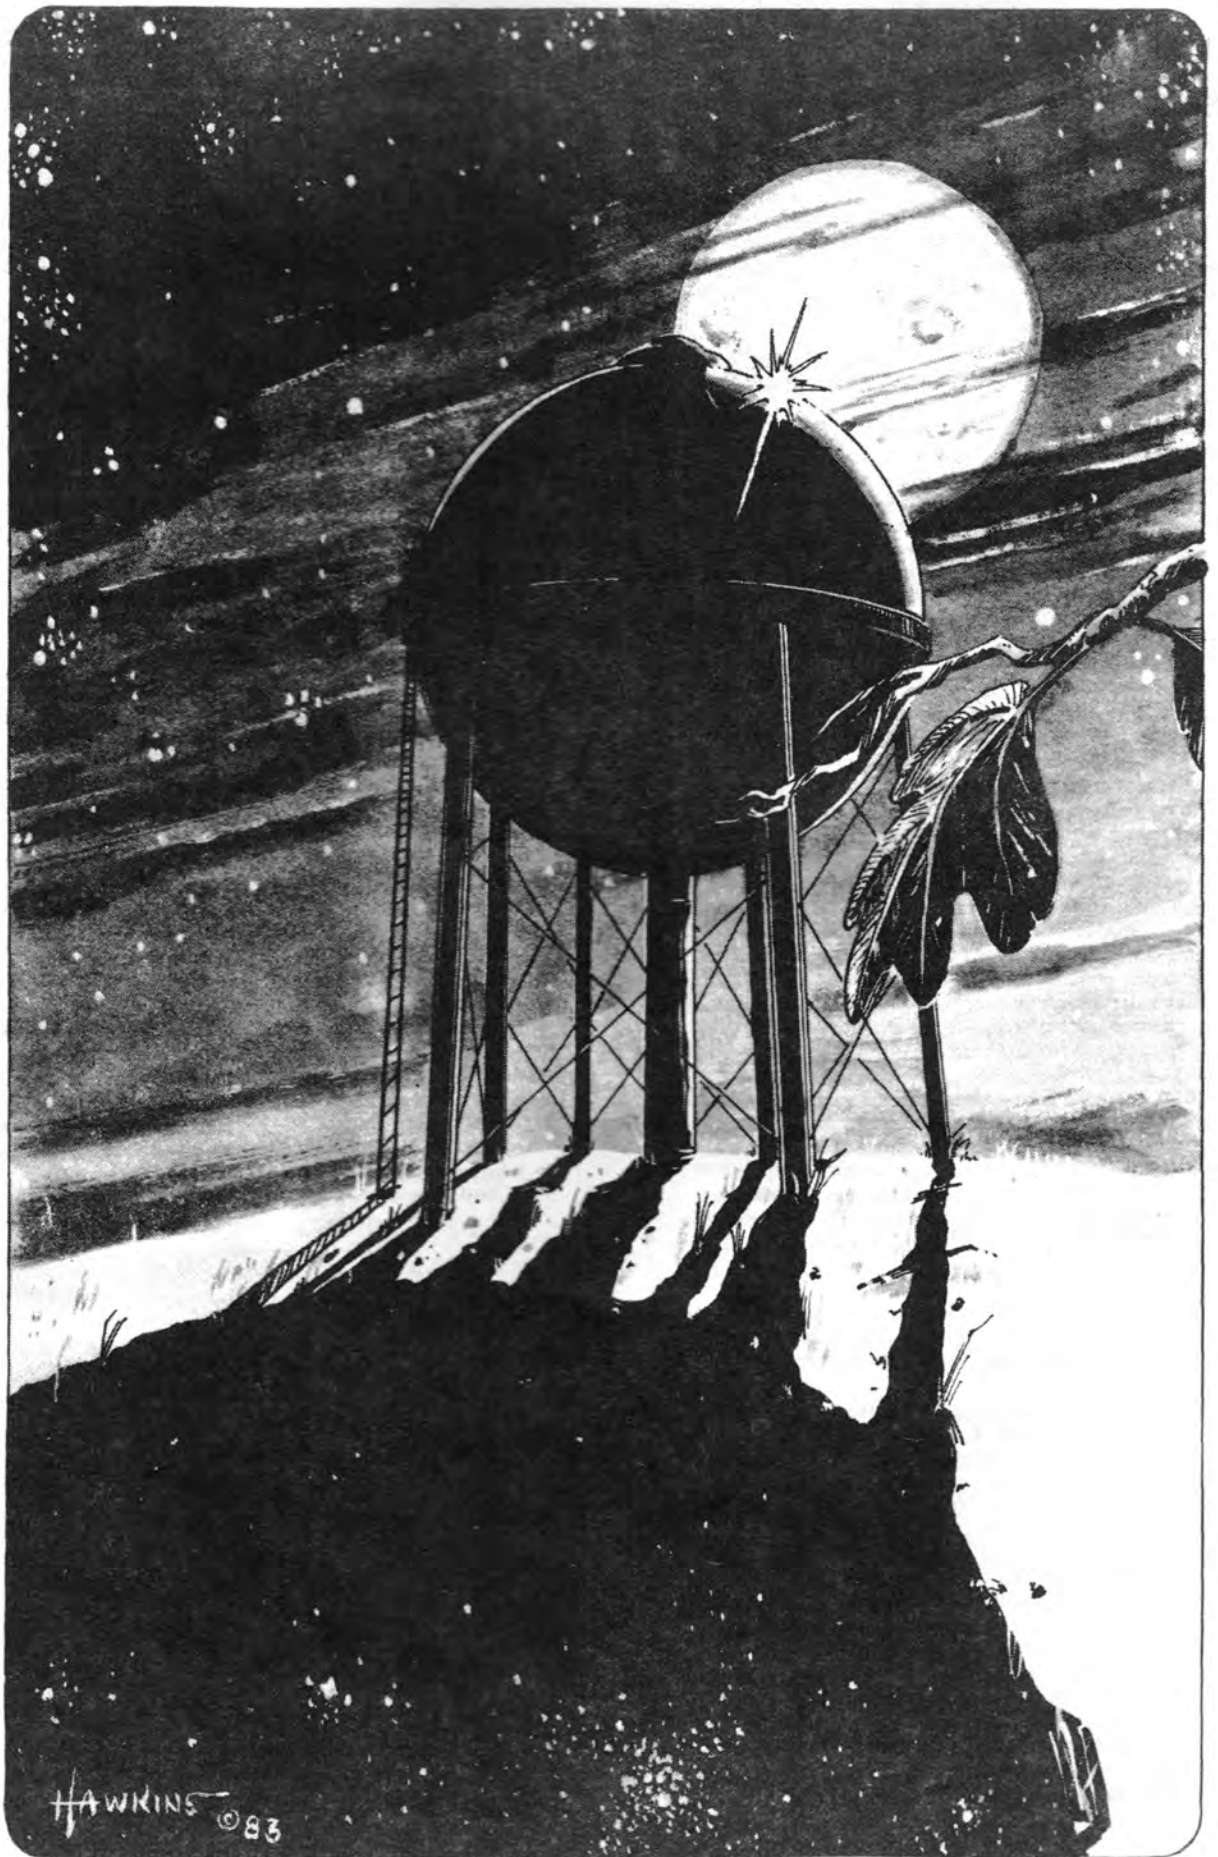

Doug Chaffee.....Front cover

Stephen Fox.....1

Judy Ruiz.....18

G. A. West.....Back cover

SPACE GRITS, Volume 1, Number 4, Spring, 1985 - Produced, edited, and published by the Charlotte Fiction Writers Guild, Inc. in Charlotte, N. C. Entire contents copyright 1985 by SPACE GRITS. All rights to individual stories, poems, and art revert to the contributors bylined, on publication. All characters and events in the fiction in SPACE GRITS are the products of the writers' imaginations, and any resemblance to real persons, places, or events is purely coincidental. Letters, mail orders, manuscripts, or artwork should be addressed to: SPACE GRITS, 5006 Farm Pond Lane, Charlotte, N. C. 28212.

HAWKINS ©83

MASQUERADING AS PUBLIC WORKS

A Paranoia

by

Dallas Denny

They land
Don't you know
Shhh!
I can see one lurking on the horizon
Eavesdropping

They're placed strategically
Don't you know
On ridges and rises
Stilt-walkers at rest
Unsuspect observers

And they're everywhere
Every neighborhood has one
They spring up like so many dandelions
But who has ever seen one
Being built/transported/open for inspection

A clever disguise
But how much water
Do ten thousand people need
Certainly more than they would hold
For flushing/showering/watering of plants

Wake up!
Tell your neighbors
They don't really hold water
They land
Don't you know