

shared Mrs. Kennedy's grief. Radio ~~was~~ played over the same ^{with out} P.A. systems. Men cried. Women cried. Children cried. Radio and television reporters cried. ^{whole} Country sobbed.

The entire nation watched the ~~parade~~ funeral procession march to Arlington cemetery. Hundreds of millions of people ^{WC} were Kennedy laid in state; everyone saw the eternal flame being lit. People by the tens of thousands filed past the grave.

^{WC} And then suddenly it was over. After the day of cessation of program, radio and television ^{resumed its regular schedule} ~~came back~~ ^{PT} on the air. The mourning period was over, and it was time for us to live again.